WELCOME MESSAGE

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

We are thrilled to invite you to the vibrant city of Singapore for the 2026 Human Proteome Organization World Congress (HUPO 2026), taking place from September 27 to October 1, 2026. This year, we are embracing the theme “Proteomics Plus: Transforming Lives” and we are excited to explore how proteomics is shaping the future of health and medicine in ways we could have only dreamed of a few years ago.

Proteomics is no longer just a field of study; it is a catalyst for change. From cutting-edge breakthroughs to real-world solutions, the impact of proteomics is undeniable. At this Congress, we will come together to celebrate how our work is transforming lives—from advancing medical treatments to uncovering new ways to understand health on a global scale. It is an opportunity to see how the science is evolving and, most importantly, how it is making a real difference in people’s lives.

Singapore’s energy and innovation will provide the perfect setting for this event. It is a place where diverse ideas meet, and we expect the conversations and collaborations to be as dynamic as the city itself. This is more than just another Congress – it is a chance to connect with like-minded peers, share ideas, and push the boundaries of what proteomics can achieve.

We cannot wait to gather with all of you in Singapore for what is sure to be an inspiring, impactful, and truly memorable experience. See you there!
